

Literacy and on-line learning

Have you seen AlphaRoute's new look?

AlphaRoute's collection of tools for literacy and on-line learning has a new look – a fresh design that makes it easy to find activities and to navigate through all the areas of the site. Even more good news is that learners will also discover lots of brand new content to choose from. Learning activities will be easily accessible from the home page whether learners use the English areas, the Deaf areas, or the Native areas.

It's easy.
Just log in and get started!

The image shows a screenshot of the AlphaRoute website's home page. The navigation bar includes links for Home, Articles and Stories, Activities, Courses, Ideas, Skills, Explore the Internet, Deaf Resources, and Native Resources. The main content area is divided into several sections: Articles and Stories (with links to Newspapers, Native Creation Stories, and Access Centre Stories), Do Activities (with links to Employment Area, Activities Online, Activities to Print, and Games), Take Courses (with a link to Online Courses), Share Ideas (with links to Chatsrooms and Discussions), Assess your Skills (with links to AlphaRoute Placement Tool and Demonstrate Your Skills), and Explore the Internet (with links to Learn to Use a Search Engine, Cyber Search, and Links to the Web). There is also a 'Get Started' section with a 'Listen to a welcome message' link and 'Deaf Resources' and 'Native Resources' sections. A login form is overlaid on the bottom right, with a red circle around the User Name and Password fields. The login form includes a 'Log in to AlphaRoute' heading, a 'GO' button, and a link for 'Forgot your password? Click here.'
